Sports Day

Yesterday was our school sports day, the sun was shining. My school was going to the Siu Sai Wan sports stadium.

First, we went there by coach. When we arrived, I saw a lot of people there. At nine o'clock, we held a flag raising ceremony. After that the competition officially began.

I joined the 100m race and the beanbag throwing event. At ten o'clock, 100m race nearly started. I was waiting on the tracks to race. I was excited, because I heard my classmates shouted, 'Hooray!'. I ran as fast as a cheetah. At eleven o'clock, beanbag throwing event started calling the athletes. I was doing hand exercise on the field getting ready for the beanbag throwing event. I felt tension. Because I am good at throwing beanbags but there was a contestant stronger than me. When I was throwing my beanbag, I missed. I only threw it 50 meters. I felt sad.

Finally, all the contestants done successfully in all the competition. I was the champion in the 100m race and the second runner-up in the beanbag throwing event. I went on the podium and received a medal. I felt amazed. My classmates cheered for me.

At last I learnt that always be careful and never give up.

Before Spring Festival, people usually clean their houses thoroughly and buy a lot of food and supplies. On New Year's Eve, people go home and have a big dinner with the whole family at night.

On the first day of Spring Festival, people get up early in the morning. They stick Spring Festival couplets on the front doors. Also, red paper window stickers are put on the windows.

At noon people put on their clothes and play with their friends. People also visit their relatives and friends. It is a traditional way to express their New Year wishes and share blessing with one another.

In the evening people usually get together for a reunion dinner. Children can receive many red envelopes from the adults. After reunion dinner, everyone sets off to watch fireworks and firecrackers together.
