Book Report

Recently, I have read a book named The Phantom Bandit. The author is Elisabetta Maria Dami. It is a fiction.

The story started off on Halloween when a famous mouse, Geronimo Stilton who was greeting to the mouse rode on the way to his work. My favourite character from the book is Crepella Van Cacklefur. She is as sweet as sugar because she always encourages Geronimo Stilton.

At the beginning of the story, the staff of the Rodent's Gazette sent Geronimo Stilton on a vacation on Cacklefur Castle. On the first night in the castle, he stumbled upon a mystery. A phantom was threatening the special pumpkins that grow in the Van Cacklefur's garden.

However, Geronimo heard a strange noise at the Von Cacklefur's garden. He couldn't do anything about it so at first he had to report the noise to Crepella. Crepella was shocked to hear about the news so she asked if Geronimo could dress up as a pumpkin to disguise as one of the pumpkins. Geronimo was also going to sleep at a pumpkin tent to let the phantom bandit think that he was also one of his pumpkins. If I were Geronimo, I would do the same thing.

At the end of the story, the Phantom Bandit tripped on the tent's wire. Geronimo thought that the Phantom Bandit was one of the guests so Geronimo had an idea. He told Crepella to write a note to each of her admirers, and asked them to take a moonlight walk with her in the garden. The reason why Geronimo asked her to do so was because he wanted to see who the Phantom Bandit was. It turned out that Felix Bloomfur, one of Crepella's guests, was the Phantom Bandit.

I loved the plot of the story because it was amazing and exciting. I would recommend this book to my friends so they would know more strategies to catch bad people.
